The next name was to have been between the Westminster Presbyterians and the First Christians and this also was a forfeiture. With the scrub team in the practice game, bowever, the Westminsters were not as lucky as the Baptists, probably became they did not have such noted characters mong them as the latter and were defeated 21 to 5. Arthur starred for the Christians making as many soals as the other side did points. This game was not quite as rough as the one of a week ago, in which the Christians played, but at that it was not exceptionally gentle. O'Dell made a very preity long goal for the Presbyterians in the last half, but otherwise the team did little exceptional playing. shich are the outward symptoms of disease laden blood, should avail themeselves of the splendid medical advice aftered by the Swift Specific Comsany, Atlanta Ga.

SCHOOL OF MINES tootball team dropped its game at Tueson on Saturday by a big score but the Miners went into that game under a handicap. They lost all their equip-ment in the recent fire and practice was rather disorganized. Mines deserves credit for playing at all.

WHAT is coming over the younger generation? When a big city church cannot find five young athletes among its many attendants to make up a basketball team, one has to wonder whether the young atbletes ever go to church.

CLEVER boxing will be handed out to the fans who attend the bouts at the Camp Cotton arena on Tues-day evening. Tommy Livingston ranks among the clever feather-weights of the country. He is certainly the best yet seen here in a main bout. Tommy O'Toole has a great reputation as a boxer and he demonstrated skill in a short bout at Camp Cotton a week ago. When they meet, there should be some real

MENTION of "shotguns and in-timulation" in frequent in a lengthy letter from Jack Curley, in accounting for the mysterious disappearance of Jess Willard from El Paso, via the "rattler" route. Jack's letter is too long for publication in this issue but space will be found for a portion of it in our next issue. Curley punished the old typewriter for about 4000 words, in all.

SUGGESTION that the University of Pennsylvania football team be invited to play here while en route to California for a New Year's game is not so wild-eyed after all. There are several thousand Pennsylvania troops here and it's a cinch that a game between Penn and a crack army team would attract the biggest crowd that has ever attended a sport event in the southwest.

WHAT about some action on the proposal to have a big league club's spring training camp in El Pase? Laving back and waiting will never get anyone anything.

EL PASO motorists are getting wise to the speed limit. On the upper valley road, Sunday afternoon, the joyriders kept a nice, sedate and steady 18 miles an hour. Two speed cops looked rather bored at the lack MARTIN HUNT, the veteran boxer who is here with the Pennsylvania signal corps and who is known to the local fans as the manager of Terry Murphy, received word on Monday morning that his little daughter, Helen, had been injured in an accident in Pittsburg on Sunday and is in a hospital. Mr. Hunt has recured a furlough and leaves for Pittsburg this afternoon.

He caught the point of Light Hearted Havana

A VISITOR was agoing through the Tom Moore Cigar factory.

The foreman opened a certain door and together they stepped into a large dark room. When their eyes could see in the dim light, the foreman pointed to great bundles of Havana leaf. "This," he explained, "is Tom Moore's Havana leaf getting its natural ageing. Some of it has been here eighteen monthssome nearly three yearsto properly mellow."

Then in the great workrooms the visitor saw the Tom Moore Cigar makers at their benches. "Many of them," the foreman whispered, "were here before the Spanish-American war. "

With remarkable deftness some were fashioning the age-mellowed Havana leaf into Tom Moore shapes. Others were rolling on Tom Moore's mild Sumatra wrapper. In another room skilled blenders were laying out the exact proportions of each grade of leaf to give Tom Moore its uniform "lighthearted Havana" flavor.

That visitor can say this with confidence; "No matter where you live, your 'Give me a Tom Moore' will bring to you the same mellow flavor - the same 'light hearted Havana' enjoyment.
